FEATURES

163 PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE, By Ken Grant
The best way to support the important functions of a library, especially our American Philatelic Research Library, is by visiting and getting involved.

166 FROM THE LIBRARIAN'S DESK, By Scott Tiffney
The change of seasons always brings a flurry of activity to the American Philatelic Research Library. This year's Summer Seminar on Philately and Volunteer Work Week resulted in a lot of researchers who were helped and a lot of extra hands who helped out.

170 LIBRARY NEWS, By Sergio Lugo
A look at what several philatelic libraries are doing, from digitization and preservation efforts to the promotion of the hobby through dentistry (makes us smile).

176 SEARCH METHODS 101, By Scott Tiffney
Are you looking for that one elusive piece of literature to complete a section in your library? Perhaps it's for sale from the APRL and can be found easily with a few clicks in an online search.

184 OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENTS
Ken Lawrence crowns his career with the APS 2018 Peterson Philatelic Literature Life Achievement Award, and Peter Martin captures the Allen Award for best article in the 2017 Philatelic Literature Review. The Royal Philatelic Society of London honors Hugh Feldman with the Crawford Medal for the most valuable book of 2017, and the Tapling Medal for the best 2017 London Philatelist article goes to Robert B. Galland.

186 A PERSONAL HOW-TO, By Thomas Pratusch
Taking on a new hobby and a new general topic led to a lot of questions and concerns when it came to research. But a logical, step-by-step methodology led to some very satisfying results.

194 HIDDEN TREASURES, By Abhishek Bhuwalka
Advertising found in old publications are filled with important details sometimes vital to someone's research. Among the finest of old journals is The Journal of the Philatelic Literature Society (1908-1910) and its handful of advertising supplements are a font of information.
